

What is the Community Wellbeing Grant?

The Community Wellbeing Grant (CWB) is part of the Tri-City Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI) plan, a plan developed by stakeholders across the cities of Pomona, La Verne and Claremont to address community mental health needs. Funded through the Mental Health Services Act, the Community Wellbeing program helps local communities develop their own capacity to strengthen the wellbeing of their members and the community as a whole.

Through monetary grants and technical assistance, the CWB program is able to build upon the knowledge and valuable expertise of local communities and support them to implement community-driven plans that promote mental and emotional wellbeing within the three cities.

Grantee Testimonials

"Because of this grant, our community members feel good about themselves and feel more connected and contented to be part of our community."

"The CWB grant was valuable on so many levels and was a wonderful way to bring our community together."

"Our community members have continuously expressed their gratitude for the grant project's existence and the value it has for them practically and emotionally."

About Us

Tri-City Mental Health Services is a public mental health agency servicing the diverse communities of Pomona, La Verne and Claremont.

For more than 50 years, Tri-City has understood its role as being equivalent to a County Department of Mental Health. We remain a steadfast community partner, supporting and sustaining an integrated system of care for individuals with mental illness and their families.

Who is the CWB grant for?

The Community Wellbeing Program is offering a partnership to enhance the ability of communities to effectively help their members. This grant is intended to support any group of people within the cities of Pomona, La Verne or Claremont that are working toward a goal and are interested in maintaining or improving the wellbeing among their community members. Communities that successfully apply to the program will:

- Be committed to results and sustainability
- Be willing to regularly assess their efforts
- Continue, or enhance, work that promotes wellness in their members and align with the intention of the PEI plan

How you and your community can benefit:

If selected your community will receive numerous forms of support including:

- A grant of up to $10,000 to fund projects that enhance the wellbeing of your members
- Greater awareness about mental health and wellbeing with your community
- Support and skill development in leadership, facilitation, conflict resolution, and data gathering and analysis through the planning process
- Increased learning, sharing and networking through forums and summits with other communities who are committed to wellbeing
- Connection to resources that may be useful for helping your members or accomplishing your mission

What communities can apply for this grant?

The CWB program defines community as a group of people who know each other well enough that they provide support to each other and act together. Any community whose members primarily reside and/or work in the Tri-City area can apply for a grant.
